WAR FLAGS BORNE BY VETS

Maryland's Collection of Confederate Emblems Is Completed.

Old Soldiers March to Tune of "Dixie," White Banners Wave Over Their Heads.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 12.—The State's collection of banners and flags carried by Maryland soldiers during the civil war was completed to-day when the thirteen banners, under which Maryland's sons of the Confederacy fought, were brought to Annapolis and placed in the flag room, which was set aside at the State house for the purpose. The banners carried by Maryland soldiers who fought for the Union were placed in the same room several months ago.

In their uniforms of gray, and bearing the short-torn banners aloft, thirteen veterans from the Confederate Soldiers' Home, at Pikeville, Baltimore County, marched behind the Naval Academy band to the strains of "Dixie" to-day for the last time.

The veterans, to the number of about 150, came to Annapolis from Baltimore by steamer, the boat landing at the Naval Academy pier. Forming in line behind the band, the "Vets" marched to the hall of the house of delegates, where the ceremony of presenting the sacred treasures to the State took place. The ceremonies were simple, yet interesting and dignified.

The procession included members of the battle flag commission, George W. Booth, president of the Society of the Army and Navy of the Confederate States in Maryland; soldiers from the Confederate Home; and members of the Confederate societies and their friends. Capt. Booth presided at the services and delivered an address. In behalf of the State Gov. Warfield delivered the address of acceptance of the flags.

NEWS OF ALEXANDRIA

Council Recommends Sale of Public Property.

NIGHT FREE SCHOOL PROGRESS

City Council Chamber to Be Improved—Jury Settles Damage Suit. New Boulevard Projected—Elks Dramatic Club Gives Successful Performance.

WASHINGTON HERALD BUREAU. (Bell Telephone 60.) 529 King Street.

Alexandria, Va., Nov. 12.—At the regular meeting of the city council this evening the joint committee on public property, general laws, and finance, recommended that certain ground owned by the city, situated near the old canal basin, be sold to George D. Hopkins, secretary and treasurer of the Old Dominion Glass Company, for the sum of $500. After considerable debate, and upon motion of Councilman Leadbeater, the report of the board of aldermen, which was favorable to the proposition, was non-concurred in, and the matter was recommended to the above named committee, while the corporation attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance for the sale of the property.

The sum of $1500 was appropriated for the use of the city school board, to make up the deficit in the school finances. The committee on finance and schools recommended that the construction of the proposed new school building for girls, to take the place of the Peabody building, now used for that purpose, was not urgent, and council adopted the report. A letter was read from Col. Theodore H. Ficklin, teacher of the night free school, stating that the school now has thirteen pupils, whose average age is fifteen years. It was also stated in the letter that the school is being operated very satisfactorily.

A communication was received from Hubert Snowden, clerk of the school board, stating that the terms of Laurence Stabler, A. H. Thomson, William J. Boothe, and Dr. W. M. Smith, as members of the board, had expired. Mr. Brill moved that the council go into joint session to elect their successors. The aldermen, however, refused to take action to-night, and the matter went over until the next meeting.

Council Plans Improvements.

Upon recommendation of the committee on finance and public property, the sum of $300 was appropriated to improve the city council chamber, and upon similar action by the light committee it was decided to place gas lamps at the intersection of Fairfax and Gibson streets and Duke and Payette streets. A petition was received from citizens residing on Columbus street, between Wolfe and Wilkes streets, calling attention to the bad drainage on that square. The matter was referred to the street committee.

Upon motion of Mr. Brill it was decided that each member of the common council and the board of aldermen shall be supplied with twenty-five copies of "Historic Alexandria," a publication recently purchased by the city. Councilman Marshall explained that the delay, incident to the work of improving the office of the clerk of the corporation court, was due to the fact that the sinking fund commissioners have a yearly tenant in the east end of the market building, whose lease will not expire until April next. It is understood that the tenant will vacate at that time, and the work of improvement will then be commenced.

In the Circuit Court for Alexandria County to-day, Judge Thornton presiding, a jury returned a verdict awarding the plaintiff $900 in the damage suit of Limerick against the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company. The action was for damages on account of the death of Mr. Limerick at Four Mile Run several months ago. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney Robinson Moncure. Two other damage suits against the same company were settled out of court. The court then adjourned for the term.

SEND NEGROES TO AFRICA

Noted Colored Educator Favors Transportation of Blacks.

Believes National and State Governments Will Lead Assistance. One Million a Year.

Special to The Washington Herald. Richmond, Va., Nov. 12.—A movement, started in Colorado, where there is a colonization society for the purpose of sending the negroes back to Africa, has been espoused by O. M. Stuart, a well-known colored educator of this city. The movement is designed to ship to Africa all the negroes in the United States, where they may establish their own government, with an American protectorate.

The worthless class of negroes are eager for the movement, while those who have accumulated property are opposed to going to a new country, where they will have to build themselves up all over again. The idea of the colonization movement is to appeal to the national government, and to the several States for assistance, on the ground that the white people owe to the negroes a debt which they will never be able to discharge until they have placed them safely and well in their own country, whence they were brought as slaves 250 years ago.

The negroes claim that the impetus given America, while receiving the benefits of their labor, will not be lost in the next 1,000 years, and the United States can well afford to pay the debt to the colored brother. The commerce that would naturally spring up between the two countries would be worth untold millions to the United States. It is declared.

It is suggested that the negroes be moved at the rate of one million a year, allowing twenty years to effect their complete colonization. The defense concluded its argument by showing that the exclusive jurisdiction of this road is vested in the United States government, since the government acquired it by an act of the Maryland legislature in 1842. The State thereby relinquished all claim to this strip of land and any attempt on the part of the State to retain concurrent jurisdiction was null and void. Numerous authorities were cited in support of these contentions, which were in direct opposition to the arguments of the prosecution.

WILL AID JAPAN'S FAIR.

United States Will Accept Invitation for 1912.

Although formal acceptance of Japan's invitation to participate in the National Exposition at Tokyo in 1912 cannot be made until Congress has taken the necessary action, the State Department is in hearty sympathy with the proposition that the United States shall take a prominent part in the big fair.

It is pointed out that the United States has repeatedly asked foreign countries to send exhibits and to participate in the big expositions which have been held in this country, and Japan has been one of the countries which has always responded liberally. Aside from the advantages to be derived commercially and in the way of cementing the friendship between the two countries, the Department believes that as an act of courtesy the United States should be well represented at the Tokyo fair, which Japan promises to make the most extensive of any ever attempted in the far East.

It is probable that at the proper time the President will make recommendation to Congress that the invitation be accepted, and that an appropriation be made to enable the United States government to take part in the exposition.

AUTOISTS HIT BACK

Test Jurisdiction of Maryland Over Conduit Road.

GOVERNMENT OWNS PROPERTY

Owners of Motor Cars Who Were Fined for Scorching Appeal, Through Their Attorneys, to Circuit Court at Rockville—May Go to Supreme Court.

In the Circuit Court of Montgomery County, at Rockville, Md., yesterday, the test cases of Glen Echo vs. John A. Lutz and the State of Maryland vs. John A. Lutz, representing the automobilists of Washington, were tried before Judge Henderson.

The courtroom was crowded with spectators, many of whom were from this city. Owing to the widespread attention which Marshal Collins attracted last summer, by the wholesale arrests of speeding automobilists he made on the Conduit road, and the international complications which were threatened for a time, considerable interest is being taken as to what verdict will be rendered.

District Attorney Robert B. Peter, of Montgomery County, assisted by E. B. Briggs, had charge of the prosecution, while G. L. Baker, of the firm of Douglas & Douglas, and A. E. L. Leckie, of the firm of Leckie, Fultz & Cox, argued for John A. Lutz and the automobilists of Washington.

John C. Rose, United States district attorney, of Baltimore, intervened on behalf of the government, and made a strong argument along the lines of Attorney General Bonaparte's decision rendered to the War Department last July.

The trial commenced at 11 o'clock, and Mr. Peter was the first to speak. He took two hours and a half to present his argument. No witnesses were called, because the defense, by previous arrangement, conceded that it had violated the ordinance of the town of Glen Echo, which prohibits the driving of automobiles within its corporate limits at a rate exceeding twelve miles an hour.

Argument for Plaintiff.

Messrs. Leckie and Baker argued that the mayor of Glen Echo had no authority to try criminal cases except with the corporation itself was a party, and, having fined Mr. Lutz, he went beyond his jurisdiction, and the decision was therefore void. Secondly, they contended that neither the State nor corporation of Glen Echo had any right to control the use of the Conduit road; in other words, the Conduit road was the property of the United States, and not a public highway. In the ordinary sense of the word, and the United States government alone could control its use.

The defense concluded its argument by showing that the exclusive jurisdiction of this road is vested in the United States government, since the government acquired it by an act of the Maryland legislature in 1842. The State thereby relinquished all claim to this strip of land and any attempt on the part of the State to retain concurrent jurisdiction was null and void. Numerous authorities were cited in support of these contentions, which were in direct opposition to the arguments of the prosecution.

Judge Henderson then took the case under advisement, announcing that he would render his decision at a later date. Attorneys Leckie and Baker are hopeful for a favorable decision, and should such be the case all fines will have to be refunded. Should Judge Henderson render a decision favorable to the State, the Washington automobilists will take the case to the United States Supreme Court.

Mrs. Emily E. Ditty, of West River, Md., was saved from an operation the doctors said was necessary by using

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

"I was terribly jaundiced. I was treated by six or eight physicians. They gave me calomel and iron; none of the treatments gave any relief. I was at an infirmary, and finally the doctors decided that an operation was necessary. My opposition to an incision was so great that I decided to leave the hospital, and as a last resort tried Warner's Safe Cure.

"I am now well. The Cure eliminated from my system all foreign substances. Of course, with a poor appetite for months preceding the use of this medicine and a distaste for everything except the juice of fruits, I lost a large amount of flesh. I have now regained this, have a fine appetite, sleep well, and even my most skeptical friends are persuaded that I acted wisely when I decided to use Warner's Safe Cure.

"You are at liberty to make any use you think proper of my name, for if I can persuade any friend of mine who is similarly affected to try this remedy I shall feel that I have done good work. Mrs. Emily E. Ditty, West River, A. A. County, Md."
